WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 21, 1902

Not Reassuring.
"Have you any reason to believe that your father will exhibit violence when I ask him for your hand?" Inquired the timid youth.

"I have never been present on any of those occasions," replied the lovely girl evasively. "And, to tell you the truth, I have never wanted to be present. I suppose I am foolishly sensitive about these things, but I can't help it. I remember that papa took me to a slaughter house when I was a little girl, and I dreamed about it every night for months afterward."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An Inspiration.
A pretty girl boarded a crowded street car in Washington, and a pompous old gentleman arose and gave her a seat.
After some time a number of passengers got out, and the old gentleman sank into the nearest corner with a weary sigh.

"I wouldn't get up again," he murmured, "for an angel." And then, as he caught the eyes of the girl fixed upon him reproachfully, he added quickly, "I mean, madam, for another angel!"—Harper's Magazine.

An Example.
"The chimney is smoking," he said. "Yes," she retorted; "that's the effect of bad example. Usually the chimney has consideration enough to do its smoking outdoors."

Thus it came about that he finished his cigar on the back porch.—Chicago Post.

Pointed.
"Why are you crying, little boy?" "One of them artists paid me a dime to sit on the fence while he sketched me."

"Well, is there any harm in that?" "Yes, sir. It was a barb wire fence."—Philadelphia Record.

Gave It Up.
"Did you catch your train last night?" asked his employer of Sooburbs. "No," replied Sooburbs wearily; "it had been gone about five minutes when I got to the station, and I didn't think it was any use to try."—Ohio State Journal.

Recognized.
"You had a piece in the paper this morning," said the excited woman, "about my husband keeping a savage dog. It didn't so."
"Madam," replied the editor, "we didn't mention anybody by name in that item. We said 'a certain man in the west part of town.'"

"That fits him to a T. You might just as well have mentioned his name. Everybody knows he's the certain man in that part of town, and he's the most contrary."—Chicago Tribune.

The Indigestible Banana.
"Next to pork," says a physician, "bananas are the most indigestible thing a person can eat, and if you will notice you will see them touched very sparingly by people with weak stomachs. If you can digest them, however, and don't mind the offensive odor, they are very nourishing, and one can make a meal on them that is in every way equal to a substantial lunch of bread and meat."

The Only Chances They Have.
"All Joshua wants," said Farmer Cornutus's wife, "is a chance to show what he can do."
"Yes," said the farmer; "I s'pose so. Josh is one of those people who never seem to get a chance to do anything except something they can't do."—Washington Star.

Afraid.
"I would marry that girl but for one thing."
"What's that—afraid to pop the question?"
"No; afraid to question pop."—New York Herald.

As people grow older the worries that formerly affected them only at night begin to stay by them all day.—Atchison Globe.

Sclatid Rheumatism Cured after Fourteen Years of Suffering.
"I have been afflicted with sclatid rheumatism for fourteen years," says John Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not to use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by Richard Gibson, Druggist.

Like a Drowning Man.
"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Helena, Tex. "I took quantities of pills and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the natural digestive juice, which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. For sale by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

MEDICINAL.

The Story of a Pioneer.

Few men are more widely known in Topoka, Kas., than Theo. L. Ross. He is the pioneer real estate dealer there, having located in the town in 1873. He was a sufferer from dyspepsia until he heard of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.

"I have never been present on any of those occasions," replied the lovely girl evasively. "And, to tell you the truth, I have never wanted to be present. I suppose I am foolishly sensitive about these things, but I can't help it.
